LEGISLATIVE DAY 9 OF 40

Hello Partners! Welcome back to the Night Owl 🐠, your nightly recap of need-to-know information and intel on what's happening under the Gold Dome.

Today brought a convergence of national and state-level developments that continue to ripple through Georgia politics. In Washington, lawmakers reached a bipartisan agreement to avoid a government shutdown, with Democratic Leader Chuck Schumer announcing a deal that temporarily funds the Department of Homeland Security while separating it from broader spending negotiations and ongoing debates over Immigration and Customs Enforcement. Despite some headlines, this was not a deal struck by Donald Trump and Democrats, but a congressional stopgap designed to keep the government open while deeper disagreements remain unresolved.

Closer to home, state and local officials are scrambling to understand the ramifications of Wednesday's FBI raid at Fulton County's election operations center, an action that has triggered sweeping fallout across the campaign trail, the legislature, and into the halls of Congress. As details emerge and speculation fills the gaps, many voices in our coalition are already doing the critical work of grounding this moment in facts and context.

Friendly reminder: now is the time to like, share, and follow the social media accounts of the trusted messengers in our community to further amplify accurate, values-driven messaging.

We hope you enjoy The Night Owl. Please let us know if you have any suggestions for additional content!
